

Refunds

DEQ will not provide refunds for any fee except under the following circumstances:

- Incorrect permit or accreditation fees paid by an applicant due to an error by DEQ;
- Extenuating circumstances, such as declaration of war or police action; or
- Catastrophic or major natural disaster or man-made event that requires assistance from a state or federal emergency management agency.

DEQ is proposing to issue a refund only in the event that DEQ makes an error or extenuating circumstances exist that are outside the control of the permittee or accreditation holder and make use of the permit or accreditation impossible.

Rules regarding refunds are necessary to save time and costs associated with processing refunds.