

Double Check Valve Assembly

The Double Check Valve Assembly (DC) is commonly used to protect against low to medium hazard installations. They may be used under continuous pressure and protect against both backsiphonage and backpressure conditions.

A diagram of a double check valve is below:

