

Public Meeting on Water Quality in the Musselshell River Watershed

The Montana Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is hosting two public meetings to provide information to landowners and other members of the community on the Musselshell Watershed Water Quality Planning Project.

The Musselshell Watershed Water Quality Planning Project is a watershed-wide assessment for streams, reservoirs, and wetlands to determine the overall health of aquatic resources in the Musselshell River watershed, identify where and how water quality can be improved, and identify where waters are in good health and how they can remain clean for future use.
